YOUR OLD MUSIC INSTRUMENT CAN CHANGE THE LIVES OF MANY CHILDREN!
YOU CAN DONATE IT NOW.

PASS IT ON!
Give an instrument, give a chance

A PROGRAM BY THE MIAMI MUSIC PROJECT

Thousands of instruments in good condition are seating in closets right now, while many poor children in our city, who are passionate about music don't have a chance to develop their talents and even build a better life for themselves through music, because they can't afford an instrument.

If this is your case, or the case of someone you know, you can now make a difference in your community by donating an instrument or music stand to a child in need.

WHAT WE NEED

- Band and orchestral instruments, gently used or new, that are still usable.
- Music stands and music stand lights in working condition.
- Orchestra chairs, cello chairs. Music equipment in good condition, such as: bows, strings, rosin etc.

HOW WE USE THEM

- We lend the instruments to poor children who are passionate about music and are learning to play an instrument.
- When children otugrow the instruments they return them so that other kids can start using them.
- We teach children to take good care of instruments and to make sure that other kids will receive them in the same conditions in the future.

HOW YOUR INSTRUMENTS IMPACT THE LIVES OF CHILDREN

- It has been proven that playing an instrument improves the performance of children at school and strengthen the unity of families.
- Through orchestral practice children develop values of community, sharing, teamwork, discipline, perseverance and self-esteem
- Music inspires children to reach excellence through their own efforts to become not only great musicians but also great human beings and citizens.
